100 Dollars Reward.

I WILL give the above reward to any person who will return to my possession, negro LAWRENCE, who assumes the sirname of FENWICK. This fellow left my farm, on the Wicomico river, in Charles county, Md. on the 6th July, in consequence of his own outrageous conduct towards my overseer. He is a negro of a fine erect figure, good features, a smooth black skin, rather above the middle stature, of a youthful appearance for one of thirty years of age, and of great plausibility and natural smartness. His ears grow remarkably close to his head, and on the inside of his lower lip he has a white mark or spot. I purchased him 4 years ago of the estate of Mrs. P. H. Courts, of this county. I am led (by circumstances which have come to my knowledge since he absconded,) to believe that he will endeavor to make his way to King George county, Va.; should he not take this route, he will probably be met with in the District of Columbia, or in the upper counties of this state, on his way to Pennsylvania. I apprehend he will change his name, and if committed to jail, refuse to state to whom he belongs, as the misconduct which preceded his departure, & his absconding, have all appeared since to have been premeditated. He took all his clothes with him, of which he had a large number; among them—a new bear-skin over-coat, a long close-bodied blue coat, a pair of striped jean pantaloons, one or more white waistcoats, besides many articles of coarse cloathing; these, however, he will probably exchange, or sell them for cash to defray his travelling expenses.

I will give the above reward to any person who will bring him home to me, or FIFTY DOLLARS if confined in jail, and notice given me, so that I recover him—Should he be taken out of the state, I will also pay all reasonable costs and charges which may attend the bringing him home.

I will give the above reward for apprehending and securing said fellow so that I get him again, and reasonable charges if brought home.

To Wheelwrights, Blacksmiths, Tanners, Harness-Makers, Saddlers, Hatters, &c.

BELIEVING as I do, that PROVIDENCE, at Fairfax Court-House, would be a suitable situation for mechanics of the above description, I offer to such, lots in that village for sale, on ground rent for ever—will build and furnish suitable houses and rent to them, or furnish brick to them to build with; and invite any who feel disposed to settle there, for the purpose of carrying on their respective trades to advantage, to come and view the situation. It is a very public place, the centre of the county, where the superior and county courts are held. The Little River Turnpike Road passes through this little town from Alexandria westward, and where all the public meetings for the county, &c. are held; and where trades of the aforesaid description being carried on, would meet with great encouragement, and be a public convenience to the country around. No situation can be more healthy—good water, and fire wood cheap. Mechanics of the above description must generally depend on the country people, farmers, &c. to be their customers. Here they would be in a convenient situation for all the purposes. I invite a call, and view for themselves. I would also furnish lots adjacent, from one to five acres each, for cultivation, pasture, &c. on moderate terms; all of which can be shown, and terms made known, on application to RICH'D. Virginia, negro HARRY, aged about twenty three years, about five feet ten inches high, very black, well built, has a considerable impediment in his speech; when spoken to evinces much confusion, and replies almost unintelligibly: had on when he left home, a much worn suit of domestic cloth. I have every reason to believe that he is endeavoring to pass for a free man, and as such went off in some of the bay craft during the late fishing season. All masters of vessels are forewarned from harboring or taking into their employ said negro, under penalty of having the law rigidly enforced against them. Missouri and Illinois Bounty Lands

THE subscriber has now for sale a number of the most valuable tracts, in both of those rich and improving bodies of lands, and can supply applicants with any number they may wish, and in any part of either territory. Every person who visits the Western Country, particularly those who intend settling there should take with them a few quarter sections of those lands; every man who has a young and growing family, and can spare a few hundred dollars, should not miss the present opportunity of getting some of those lands; as it will insure to his children a greater certainty than any other investment he can possibly make for their benefit.—From the immense emigration to both Illinois and Missouri, particularly to the military lands, it is certain there must be a great rise in the price very soon, and those who miss the present opportunity, will never again have a chance to do so well. The patents will be sold very low, for cash, good notes or bonds at short dates, or bank stock in the Central Bank of Georgetown and Washington, and the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank of Georgetown. As I am a large dealer in Military Bounty Lands, I can supply any number that may be required.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1819.

The Aurora states that Commodore Perry, whose arrival in the Orinoco has been announced, is bound not to the Island of St. Thomas, but to the "city of St. Thomas in Angostura, the capital of Guaiana and the seat of the Venezuelan government—His mission is to demand two vessels, fitted and freighted out in the United States, and which took a new start from Martinique, with supplies for the royal army under Morillo; the vessels were captured by Commodore Brion, and condemned as Spanish property, under a neutral flag."

Detroit, August 13.

We learn by a recent arrival from Green Bay that the troops at that post are in fine health.

The Indians in the country surrounding Green Bay are well disposed and conduct in a very friendly manner towards our troops.

The fort built in 1816, is deemed by Gen. Brown to be ineligible as to its situation, and it is contemplated to erect one about two miles farther up the Fox river, on the opposite bank.

Franklin, (Mis.) July 2.

ARRIVAL OF A PART OF THE YELLOW STONE EXPEDITION!

We announce, with great satisfaction, the arrival here this day, of five large keel boats, with 260 troops, exclusive of officers, being a part of the expedition destined for the Yellow Stone. Our citizens were apprized of their approach by the firing of swivels from on board the boats, and every demonstration of joy and satisfaction was manifested at an event, the successful result of which promises such important advantages, as well to this portion of the country, as to the nation at large.

The following officers have arrived with the troops, viz. Col. Talbott Chambers, Capt. James S. Gray, Lieut. Scott, Lieut. Kieth, and Dr. Malone.

The boats left Belle-Fontaine on the 14th of June; each has a swivel, &c.—The troops are in good health and spirits, and anxious for the accomplishment of this great enterprize.

The steam boats were to have left Belle-Fontaine on the 25th June, with the 5th regiment of infantry commanded by Col. Atkinson, to proceed as far as the Council Bluffs, about 500 miles from this place, to winter quarters.

The Western Sun, printed at Vincennes, (Indiana) states, that the Vincennes bank has emitted a new batch of paper, payable nine months after date at their BRANCH in Vevay. It is said that the 'nine months after date' is printed on a dark ground, in a small letter at the top of the bill, so contrived as to require careful scrutiny to distinguish them from those payable on demand.

Three hundred and thirty-five passengers arrived at Philadelphia, a few days ago, from Great Britain and Germany.

BURGLARY.

On Saturday night, three houses, in Locust-street, opposite Washington Square, occupied by Messrs. John Watson, Solomon Moses, and Asaph Stone, were forcibly entered through the back windows.—The chests of drawers, bureaus, &c. were broken open and plundered. A number of trinkets and other articles were found in the kitchen and yards, which the robbers must have dropped. The families being in the country, the extent of the robbery cannot be precisely ascertained. The robbery must have been committed at an early hour of the night, as a person was discovered coming out of one of the alleys about eleven o'clock. [Phila. Centinel.

New-York, August 30.

MUTINY.

About half past 8 o'clock last evening, the passengers of the Dutch brig lately from Amsterdam rose upon the crew, when about thirty of them jumped into the boat, and made for the Jersey shore. Murder was cried, and they hailed for a boat, when the cutter's yawl put off, laden with men for the brig. On their arrival they did not find any person materially injured, although some were knocked down. Two of the Dutch crew returned to the revenue cutter's boat, and landed at the custom-house wharf, to endeavor to obtain a boat to go in search of their own. [Gaz.

The sickness and alarm at Newport have entirely subsided, and Providence continues to enjoy its usual portion of health.

The fever at Boston has subsided.—There had been but one death in a week, and no new cases. [Ibid

BOARD OF HEALTH,
Baltimore, 31st August, 1819.

The state of the fever noticed in our report of the 28th inst. has not materially varied in its range. No decisive marks of its extension have been discovered after the most careful investigation, although threatening symptoms of it still prevail, the diseases in its proximity appearing to be influenced by it. New cases still occur in full proportion to the number of inhabitants remaining in the diseased district. They are, however, of a milder character, and evidently more yielding to medical treatment.

The removals being very general, the cases and deaths will be thereby much diminished, which, with the precautionary measures used by the police, will, it is hoped, speedily terminate this distressing calamity—but on this subject the board are not authorised to speak with confidence.—To assist in counteracting its progress, by due attention to the ordinances & the most scrupulous regard to cleanliness, has become the particular duty of every good citizen, which will be enforced by all the powers invested in this office.

JAMES A. MILLER, Clerk.

Belfast, (Maine) August 13.

Yesterday, about 6 o'clock, P. M. a cloud from the N. W. highly charged with the electric fluid, denoted no ordinary tempest. In 30 minutes it covered the whole horizon, and extended to appearance thro' the whole extent of the country. The lightning was vivid beyond parallel in this climate, and was incessant until about 2 o'clock this morning. The oldest people do not remember a tempest so awfully terrific, nor one of the kind of so long duration. It would be impossible for me to picture in language the whole scene of conflagrations of buildings, mixing the blaze with that of the lightning, exciting a feeling of terror not well to be expressed.—The lightning struck in many places, but the damage as yet learned, has been in no ways proportionate to our apprehensions. A barn in Brooks, full of the products of the season, belonging to a Mr. Bowen, was consumed.

Rumor has circulated many reports of the destruction of property, and in some instances of lives—but as some of them want as yet confirmation, I shall forbear to give them at present. We expect from other quarters the most distressing intelligence. God grant that we may be disappointed!

Mercer, (Penn.) Aug. 19.

DISTRESSING OCCURRENCE.

On Friday evening the 6th instant, Mr. Samuel Cree, a respectable citizen of Pymatuning township, in this county, was instantaneously killed in his house by lightning. We are informed that Mr. Cree, his wife, two or three children, and a young lady of the neighborhood, were the only persons in the house at the time; some bread was baking by the fire to which Mrs. C. was attending, when Mr. Cree, having a young child in his arms, arose and stepped to the chimney place, in order to adjust the fire, as is supposed, when he was struck to the floor lifeless, and the child not injured. The flash was supposed to have passed down the chimney:—Mrs. Cree was also struck and lay apparently lifeless for nearly an hour, she has however recovered. No marks were perceivable on Mr. C. except a very small hole thro' his hat and into his head, something like that which might be made by a small pidgeon shot. Life, how uncertain, death, how sure!

MADAME BLANCHARD.

Extract to a gentleman of Philadelphia, dated, "Paris, July 7, 1819.

"I transmit you an account of the tragical fate of the celebrated Æronaut, Madame Blanchard, to which I was an eye-witness. At Tivoli, an entertainment extraordinary, took place last evening, pursuant to public notice; and excitements had been raised in consequence of frequent postponements. The garden was unusually brilliant, and a large concourse of the gay citizens of Paris, and strangers assembled. The enchanting music, the delightful variety of exercises, in which this place excels, tended to excite the pleasure and mirth of the spectators to the highest pitch of elevation. And now at half past ten, the hour appointed for the balloon, every eye was fixed to the spot! After saluting, gracefully, the numerous acquaintances who approached around, Madame Blanchard took her seat, elegantly dressed in white, and her bonnet ornamented with plumes. The cords being detached, a trifling embarrasment was occasioned amongst the trees; but soon extricated, she ascended slowly, amidst the acclamations of applause. To the feeling heart, this momentary suspension, as it were, betwixt heaven and earth, is truly memorable; while the sigh of sympathy escaped the heaving bosom, & the pitying tear was dropt.

"With one hand, the lighted torch communicated to the artifice of fires, which blazed around her, and with the other she twirled the floating banner. The grandeur increased as the fires took, the effect fully intended. On emerging from the first cloud it was sublime, and an immediate abatement gave every indication of a happy termination. But, alas! the cord of life is cut! a sudden glare was spread over the whole horizon, from the inflammation of the hydrogen gas, converted of a sudden into a complete globe of solid fire! awful sight! The unfortunate is seen falling! No doubt could exist of her inevitable death! The consternation is dreadful throughout, one general shriek of pity! Oh! poor woman, she falls—she dies! Every heart sickened at the horrid catastrophe. The fete, notwithstanding the magnificent preparations, ceased instantly. The public withdrew, with grief, from a place that had paid so cruelly for their pleasures.—A collection being made at the door, the amount of the evening's receipts were doubled, for the benefit of the family of the sufferer.

Various conjectures have been put forth respecting the causes of the accident; but of what avail? It is doubtful if all the efforts of human intelligence can any more control the elements, than arrest the individual from the cold untimely hand of death. Mad. Blanchard, the most successful aeriel voyager, having made 67 ascensions, suffered what must be expected ultimately to be the fate of them all.—Whether or not, the world will be likely to derive any future advantages from the discovery, time will decide. So far it has afforded nothing but vain expectations to its rash partizans, and made so many victims. These fatalities are a warning to the public, who cannot but see the propriety of discountenancing such amusements, as have an evident tendency to sport with the lives of our fellow creatures. Perhaps the practice of horse racing & circus riding may be included in the list; or can the present civilized state of society look with composure on the rope dancer, suspended to an immense height in the air? What compensation can atone for the untimely arrest, the life lost, to contribute to our gratification? Can we offer any equivalent to the bereaved family? Certainly no charm can follow tantamount to the peril.

AGRICULTURAL.

Extract from a paper, published in the Richmond Enquirer, under the signature of John S. Slaughter.

"It may always be remarked, that no crop will succeed, immediately adjoining woodland. Many are under impressions that this failure is caused by the heat of the sun being in some measure excluded by the shade of the timber; others are of opinion that it is occasioned by the exhaustion of the roots of the trees. The following experiments have convinced me that the latter is alone the cause. A few years ago there stood in my garden several luxuriant willow trees, adjacent to a square in which cabbages were usually planted.—For several years I observed that the cabbages for several steps from the trees, and beyond the shade, were much inferior to the rest of the square, though the soil was equally well manured. I then dug a semicircular ditch near the tree, so as to cut all the willow roots running into the square of cabbages; and the succeeding crop I was gratified to find was fully equal, and indeed rather superior nearest the ditch, notwithstanding the shade. I then repeated the experiment on a larger scale. I have a field which extends along the east side of a piece of very tall and large timber about the distance of 400 yds. the produce of this field for the width of 20 steps or more along the side of the timber was scarcely any thing. I dug a ditch close to the edge of this timber, it being on the line of my farm, about two feet deep, so as to cut all the roots on the side next to the field. From its situation the sun could shine on the part of the field adjoining the woodland, very little after the meridian, yet the crop of corn and wheat quite up to the ditch was fully equal to that in any part of the field of equal quality of soil.—The difference between the growth of weeds on each side of the ditch was very striking. On the bank next to the field there was a luxuriant growth of weeds of different kinds, higher than the fence, and very thick. On the bank next to the timber, the growth of weeds of the same kinds was extremely scattering and small, and not more than one third the height of those on the opposite bank, although only two or three feet distant. I am so well satisfied with these experiments that I shall, as often as convenient, repeat them in every situation where it may be advantageous to do so; and I am convinced the benefits derived from ditching in such situations will very soon repay the labor and expense of doing it."

From the Charleston City Gazette.

CRUEL USAGE.

The following extracts have been politely furnished us, by the gentleman to whom the letter was addressed:

"Havana Prison, July 29.

"I have been nearly three years a prisoner, and have suffered more than tongue can express For your amusement I will give you a small sketch of them. I was taken on the 3d of October, 1816, in sight of St Jago de Cuba, and on the 4th was brought into Havana, and committed to prison, with all my crew, 38 in number. On the 5th I was confined in the dungeon by myself, and both legs put in irons, and only allowed one plate of rice and a pint of water for 24 hours—no person allowed to speak to me, or render me the least assistance whatever. Previous to my being put in the close room, the jailor took from me my watch and what money I had about me; clothes I had none, except the shirt and trowsers I had on, having been deprived of them before. In that situation, I remained in the dungeon until the 25th of February, 1817, nearly 5 months, when Com. Taylor appeared off the Moro, with his squadron, and sent a letter to the governor demanding me and my crew, in exchange for prisoners he had on board—the governor was a little alarmed at the appearance of this squadron, and immediately ordered me out of irons; then hand-cuffed me, and eleven others of my crew, and put us on the march for this place, under strong guard, the most of us bare-foot, and only allowed sufficient food to keep life in us, and nothing more—in this situation I was compelled to march 250 leagues, which took us forty six days to complete it. We were obliged to use every exertion to reach here, as the governer's order to the officer of the guard was, in case of any of us giving out, so that we could not reach this, to cut off his head, and bring it here in a basket, to shew that he had not made his escape. We all, however, arrived here on the 12th of April—I was in a most dreadful situation; my feet swelled to that degree, that they were nearly round; my toe nails came out—and the vermin on the remant of the shirt and trowsers I had on nearly devoured me—my beard six months and a half growing, as I was never allowed to shave or cut my beard from the time I was taken until I arrived in this prison; therefore, I will leave you to judge what a figure I cut. I was very near dead; so far gone, that I partly lost my senses; but by the attention of some of the prisoners, and the assistance of some masters of vessels of my acquaintance, I recovered again in part; I still remain feeble, owing to the horrid living we are obliged to put up with; all the allowance I get, is, one ounce of bread and one ounce of beef for twenty-four hours—we are allowed some damaged rice and beans boiled together, but I make no use of them; I cannot eat them; therefore I am obliged to support myself, or starve—the most of the prisoners make out to live by their work; a man must work attentively to earn 12½ cents per day—some have starved to death.

"Many people, no doubt, censure me for being taken in arms against the Spaniards; but they are ignorant as to the provocation I had which induced me to take arms against them. I had been defrauded and cruelly injured by them. I will give you a small sketch; In the time of the late war between Great Britain and America, I purchased a brig; a Spanish merchant now residing in Havana, procured Spanish papers for her, and lent his name to them, for which he charged me upwards of 700 dollars, he also procured a captain, a friend of his, who also resides at Havana—the first and only voyage he made was from America to St. Jago de Cuba, where he, by gambling and other misconduct, sacrificed vessel and cargo; the latter amounting to 25,000 dollars. As soon as the news reached me in America, I took passage for that place, but was captured on my way, which prolonged the time for several months—when I reached Cuba, the captain had absconded considerably in debt; He made the best of his way for Havana—they endeavored to make me pay his debts, but they did not succeed—but I lost vessel and cargo, time, trouble, and expense. I had met with a similar loss not long before of 10,000 dollars—these losses took my last dollar from me which I had toiled hard for—and having no other way of getting any redress, I purchased a part of a small privateer—I took two prizes but lost both, and the privateer.

"I have thus given you a small sketch of my misfortunes, which have been the means of bringing me here. I have done it, to do away any prejudice you might entertain against me, for being what is termed a privateersman. I never robbed or plundered any one; nor even overhauled any vessels but Spaniards. I had been but a few days out; had made two captures, one a guineaman: I stood close into the Moro, off St. Jago, for the purpose of ransoming her; a large vessel of war being there, ready for sea came out, and sailing faster than us, captured my privateer after a smart action, together with both prizes; wherewith I lost every thing I possessed. I have already stated what followed."

ELEGY.

If e'er when solemn stillness reigns,
Our wakeful eyes a vigil keep;
When all along the silent plains
The voice of nature seems to sleep,
Harp of the winds, oh! let the gale
Awake the sadly pleasing wail!

Thy mingling chords so mild are flung,
So soft their fitful murmurs ring,
They thrill as if an angel sung,
Or Ariel's finger touch'd the string!
Harp of the winds, oh! let the gale
Still wake thy sadly pleasing wail.

Now the notes awhile complain,
Now they with the breeze decay;
Hark! they cease, they breathe again,
A moment swell, then melt away!

But ah! more sweet bis heavenly strain,
Who with Italia's poet sung,
Can aught the raptured ear enchain,
Like airs that o'er his lyre have rung?
Harp of the winds, thy pensive tone,
The mildest thrill were all his own.

Each mingled chord, each wandring note,
His magick touch would oft combine,
As dyes that o'er the azure float,
Together in the rainbow shine!
If musick now his soul inspire,
Harp of the winds, thou art his lyre!

In song he closed life's fleeting day,
Like the swan when death is nigh,
His requiem was his parting lay,
Its closing strain his latest sigh!

Valuable Land for Sale.

THE subscriber will sell at private sale, the tract of land on which he lives, containing about Fifteen Hundred Acres.

It joins the town of Warrenton, the seat of justice for Fauquier county—It is 42 miles from Alexandria, the city of Washington and Georgetown; 40 from Fredericksburg, and 45 from Winchester. This estate, in a neighborhood celebrated for health and good water, is well adapted to grazing and to the growth of corn and wheat. The turnpike road leading from Alexandria to Warrenton is finished, with the exception of seven miles. The improvements are a two story house, about fifty feet long, in the suburbs of Warrenton; two houses for overseers; a large barn, stables, and every necessary house for a farm. On the property are 3 good apple orchards, and a variety of other fruit trees. This tract is now divided into two farms—each of which has a superabundance of wood, and is laid off into six fields under good fences, with running water in every field. I believe there is a sufficiency of stone on the land to enclose the whole tract. Both farms have been under a course of clover and plaister for several years, by which they have been much improved, as the plaister acts with very great effect. The subscriber will divide the tract to suit purchasers. The terms are one third down, with an accommodating credit on the balance, if he sells a part; but only one fourth if the purchaser buys the whole tract, together with the stock of horses, cattle, sheep, hogs, the farming utensils of every description, and all the provision that may be on hand for the support of the farm.

Hill and Dale, April 20.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensels and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be goverued by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

PROSPECTUS

Of a new periodical work to be published in the city of Washington, entitled the Washington Theological REPERTORY.

EDITORS. { Rev. Wm Hawley, Washington, Rev. Wm. H. Wilmer, Alexandria, Rev. Oliver Norris, Alexandria, Rev. Reuel Keith, Georgetown.

Assisted by several other literary gentlemen of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

IF any apology were necessary for this undertaking, it may be found in the fact, that there is no publication on a similar plan, in all that section of our country lying south of New-York, and but one in the whole of the United States. It has been matter of equal surprize and regret, that the Episcopal Church should be so far behind other Christian denominations, in similar efforts to disseminate the principles of religion and piety. At a period like the present, when the Lord is preparing his way on earth, by the most remarkable efforts of human agency, and the most wonderful operations of his providence and grace—when we perceive in every part of Christendom, a praise-worthy emulation to share in the glorious work of filling the earth with the knowledge of the only true God, and his Son Jesus Christ; it would seem criminal for any to withhold their exertions, however feeble, in the great enterprize of human happiness and salvation. The editors have, therefore, felt it their duty to make this humble effort to supply this acknowledged deficiency on the part of the church in this section of the country, and to bear their share in the common exertions of Christians to promote the Redeemer's Kingdom. And having obtained the services of a gentleman, in whose talents and principles they have confidence, whose time will be wholly devoted to the superintendence of the work, they feel encouraged to solicit the patronage of the public.

The publecation will be conducted under the immediate inspection and control of the above named editors, who will form a committee to review every article intended for publication. The principles upon which it will be conducted are those of the bible, as illustrated in the articles, Liturgy and Homilies of the Protestant Episcopal Church. As members of this church the editors will feel bound to support the Apostolical character of her institutions, the pious tendency of her rites and ceremonies, and the evangelical nature of her doctrines But in these, and all other discussions, they hope never to loose sight of that great law of charity whcih teaches us to "preserve the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace."

Acting upon those catholic principles, so long and so successively pursued by "The Christian Observer," their chief object will be to inculcate sound theological knowledge, and to delineate and recommend pure and vital religion. They trust therefore, that while the members of every Christian denomination may find something edifying and instructive, none will discover any just cause for offence in the pages of this work. General subjects of biblical criticism, practical illustrations of scriptural truth, the biography of illustrious persons, evidences of the truth of revelation, essays on the history and polity of the church, reviews of interesting publications, religious, literary and philosophical intelligence—in short, whatever is connected with the promotion of religion, humanity and literature, will find a place in this repository.

The testimony of experience supersedes the necessity of dwelling on the advantages of a periodical publication on the plan proposed. Its obvious tendency will be to render the various departments of religious knowledge more easy and accessible, and give a more ready currency and wider circulation, to those great truths which involve the present welfare and future destiny of man.

It will tend powerfully to stimulate the exertions of the editors, and console them under the difficulties attendant on the prosecution of this work, amidst many other avocations, should it prove the means under the blessing of God, of enriching any of its readers with the saving knowledge of Christ, and prepare them for a participation in the felicity and glory of his heavenly kingdom. With this hope they commit it into his hands, and confidently solicit their brethren of the clergy and laity to assist them in carrying into effect the objects of the undertaking.

TERMS OF THE WORK.

A volume of the Repertory shall consist of twelve numbers, of which one shall be published on the first day of every month, containing thirty-two large octavo pages, stitched in blue, and attended with a table of contents.

The paper used in the work shall be good, and the typography executed with the greatest care.

The price of a volume is two dollars, payable in advance; to such as omit the advance, two dollars and fifty cents.

It is designed to enlarge the size of the work, without increasing the price, as soon as one thousand subscribers shall be obtained.

Communications and remittances may be directed to any of the editors, post paid.

Any person becoming responsible for five subscribers, shall receive a sixth copy gratis.

The first number may be expected in the month of July. June 26
